Note: If a disc biopsy had been performed instead of an aspiration, code 62267 is still appropriate. If a ~~an adjacent~~ vertebral body bone biopsy had been performed instead of an aspiration, report code 20225 instead (not 62267). Most procedures consist of an aspiration of the disc or paravertebral soft tissues only where code 62267 would apply. If both an aspiration and bone biopsy of a contiguous vertebral body are performed, report only the aspiration with code 62267. If paravertebral aspiration is done, and a vertebral body biopsy is performed at a totally different site away from the aspiration (rare), report both codes 62267 and 20225-59. Each of the two codes (62267 and 20225) allow separate coding of imaging guidance as well when performed and documented.
